CHAIRMAN MCCLINTOCK AN-NOUNCES CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

That the Democratic candidates in the county election have behind them some of the most ardent workers in the county is shown by the list given out by Chairman William G. McClintock. Mr. McClintock has summoned to the aid of the Democratic candidatesperhaps the most ardent party men, who will from now until the polls close on election day be active in their efforts in behalf of the Democratic nominees. They are 'as fol-

Chairman McClintock has announced that there will be a public speaking at the Centerville school house Saturday night, Nov. 1, in the interest of the Democratic party. The speakers will be Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill, of Georgetown, Judge Denis Dundon and Mr. Charles A. McMillan, the latter the Democratic candidate for County Judge of Bourbon. A cordial invitation os extended to the Democrats of the county to attend this neeting, which promises to be the most interesting of the campaign. Squire John N. Shropshire, who is a candidate for re-election as Magistrate from the Centerville precinct, has opposition. During his term of office he has made an excellent official, and as a member of the Fiscal Court, has taken a great interest in the county's affairs.

PAIR OF SHOES LEADS TO ARREST OF SUSPECT.

A pair of shoes which were identified as being those stolen from the general store of Mr. C. N. Martin at Stony Point, several nights ago, led to the arrest of George Wilson, colored, who was lodged in jail Tuesday by Patrolman Fred Link, on the charge of being implicated in the rob-

The arrest of Wilson was made fole information obtained officer to the effect that a strange gro had made several attempts to dispose of articles of goods in the negro suburb of Claysville, which tallied with those taken from the store of Mr. Martin. A description of the negro was secured, and when taken into custody he was wearing a pair of heavy shoes of the brand sold by Mr. Martin, who came to Paris Tuesday morning and identified them as being the same that had been taken from his store.

The negro protesed his innocence and said he had purchased the shoes from a mrchant in Paris. The merchant when seen denied handling that brand of shoes.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE CAPTURED IN THIS CITY.

Frank Williams, colored, a fugitive rom justice, was arrested in this city by Patrolman Fred Link. Williams was wanted in Carlisle, and was taken to that city Wednesday morning by deputy jailer Broderick. Williams escaped from the Carlisle jail about a week ago after tunneling through a brick wall and dropping fifteen or twenty feet to the ground. A liberal reward was offered for the capture of the negro, who was being held on a serious charge. Upon a description furnished by the Nicholas authorities to Patrolman Link the capture of the negro was effected at the Louisville & Nashville passenger station in this city, where the fugitive was in the act of boarding a train en route to Cincinnati. He admitted to the arresting officer that he was the man wante when the officials at Carlisle were no tified of his capture.

D. D. D. Opens New Era in Cure of Skin Disease

Professor Budlong's case of eczema was known to almost every hospital and physician of reputation throughout the state of Connecticut. His letter is another interesting demonstration of what is being accomplished by the famous specific D. D. D., Prescription. "It may be of interest to you to know that your life-giving preparation, D. D. Prescription has been of incalculable value to me. I was covered with eczema from head to foot when I began using your remedies. I could get no relief, although I tried a thousand means. I applied but two botlles of the Prescription; a cure was effected in a very short time, in less than one month."—Prof. C. J. Budlong. South Lyme, Conn.

Ask any druggist today for D D. D. Prescription. He'll tell you it allays the itch instantly—and soon there are

WOODEN SHOES

Made in United States And Are Worn By Many.

In this country beech is the favorite material for wooden shoes, the manufacture of which has reached considerable proportions in the United States, according to the department of agriculture, which has just issued a bulletin on the use of the wood. These shoes, the department says, costs from 60 to 75 cents a pair and aregood for two years. They are worn by those who have to work in cold or wet places, such as tanneries, breweries and livery stables, and by workmen in steel mills and glass factories who must walk on hot grates or floors. Farmers, too, are classed among the users.

Beech wood is put to a very much wider range of uses than the average person would be likely to suspect. The department says beech enters into hundreds of articles from nobby-horse rockers to butchers' blocks. We walk on beech floors, eat off beech picnic plates, carry beech baskets, play with beech toys, sit on beech chairs, and in dozens of other ways use articles made of beech almost every day of our lives. Its freedom from taste fits the wood especially for articles which come in contact with foodstuffs, and beech meat boards, skewers; lard tubs, butter boxes, sugar hogsheads, refrigerators, dishes, spoons and scoops are widely used.

Only one species of beech grows naturally in the United States, but few trees in this country have a wider ommercial range. It extends from the Gulf of Mexico into Eastern Canada, and in practically every place where it is cut for market. The total yearly output of beech wood in the United States is approximately 500 million board feet.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health, Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. CO COMPANY CONDUCTED AS OTHER CORPORATIONS.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Present Management Charged With Extravagance and Mismanagement and Ask That the Company's Business Be Run Along Economical Lines and in Accordance With Sane Business Methods.

With the sole object of aiding in securing to the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco Co. the same rights, privileges and benefits that belong to and are enjoyed by the stockholders of all other corporations existing under our laws; and, with the desire, hope and view that something might be done by the stockholders of said corporation that would restore confidence among its members and bring about a more satisfactory condition of affairs among the growers of Burley tobacco, and with a view of doing only that which will best protect said growers from the greed, oppression and wrongs of the tobacco trust and secure to the growers convenient markets and fair prices for their tobacco, a number of representatives from various Burley tobacco growing counties have had several meetings at Lexington, Ky., within the past few weeks.

AND

While all present seemed willing to do what they consistently could for the best interests of the organization, and its members, and were willing to make any reasonable sacrifices of time and means for the general good; yet, the holdings of each stockholder being small, and none of those present desiring any employment or position of profit in the corporation, it was concluded that all that could be reasonably expected from any particular stockholder was a statement to all the stockholders, covering the situation as it appears to the average stockholder, and letting the meeting to be held under the supervision of the court, at Lexington, Ky., November 6, 1913, quietly assemble and dispassionately act as the best judgment of those present shall determine. Whatever is to the best interest of a majority of the stockholders is best money since February 1, 1910, and for each, and those who have beg interested in trying to bring about a better feeling in the organization and three per cent, the amount paid by who favor the conducting of its busi- most banks, would have amounted to ness more fairly, economically and with greater justice and satisfaction to its stockholders, have no other, and could have no greater object, they think, than restoring the tobacco growers' organization to its original purpose and regaining for it the full confidence of its members. They entertain no personal hostility towards over $30,000.00 by this time.

Nine—They have authorized a committee of their own number to speculate in tobacco with the funds of the company.

Ten—They have expended large sums of the poolers' money with certain newspapers of the burley district for the purpose of popularizing them. ness more fairly, economically and over $30,000.00 by this time. tertain no personal hostility towards any person connected with the management of the corporation, and want the whole matter treated as a business proposition and without prejudice or favor to individuals. But they are unable to escape the conclusion that the present disturbed and unsatisfactory condition of its affairs are due entirely to the misdeeds and mistakes of the men who usurped the unwarranted powers and committed the unwise and unlawful acts of which the present management has been guilty.

No success has come to the tobacco growers' organization since the usurpers at present in charge of its affairs diverted it from its original purpose, and nothing but failure and disaster ever follows such conduct.

Flushed by the victory which had been won by the combined efforts of the poolers of 1906 and 1907 and by the cutting out of the 1908 crop (against the cutting out of which crop) Mr. Clarence Lebus vigorously opposed and voted), Mr. Clarence Lebus and his close associates conceived the idea of the centralization of all power in the hands of himself and a few self its original purpose and conducted selected associates, by vesting in themselves the power to vote all the stock of the Burley Tobacco Co. This usurwas a wrong similar in nature to that along the following lines, to-wit: heretofore perpetrated by the American Tobacco Co. against the growers of Burley tobacco and against which all fair-minded people so bitterly complained and actively opposed and of which the United States government porations. finally took notice and aided in stopping.

disapproval upon said unlawful acts of Mr. Clarence Lebus and his associates. The following is an extract from the opinion of said court, to-wit:

"The action of the Board of Directors (Mr. Lebus and his associates) of the Burley Tobacco Society thereafter in trying to take from them (the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco Company) that right (to vote) was without semblance of authority and upon its fact the most indefensible usurpation."

When they have been guilty of what the highest court in our state brands as "indefensible usurpation," is it to be wondered at that they have lost confidence of the stockholders and public in general, and that the present unfortunate condition of affairs is laid at their door? Where else could the responsibility be justly placed?

The court further decided as fol-

B. Haggin, of Fayette county, to-wit:

"This instrument is executed by the undersigned upon the express conditions that he is to have the right to name one member of the Board of Directors of said Burley Tobacco Society, who is also to be a member of the executive committee of said Board, and that such action will be taken from year to year by said society, as may be necessary to constitute the person designated by the undersigned or his representative a member of said board, and of said committee, and it is further agreed that if at any time such condition be not complied with, the undersigned or his representatives may at his or their election cancel and rescind this pledge as of the date of such condition.

"It is also understood that the undersigned is under no obligation to raise any tobacco upon his land in any of said years to bacco upon his land in any or said years unless he may choose to do so, and has the right to deliver to the pool whatever amount may be grown by him in any year, be the same more or less.

Do you know of any such privilege having been granted to any farmer or tenant in your neighborhood?

those present at the above mentioned meetings of stockholders, at Lexington, that neither profit or success can come to this organization, or its members, unless its business is conducted differently in the future from what it has been in the past, and the experience and history of all men and con cerns seems to approve this view. It is believed that the business can be properly conducted along fair and lawful lines, and that when so conducted it will prove both profitable and protective to the growers of Burley tobacco. No one wants to see a return of the days when the growers were at the mercy of the American Tobaccc Co., and it was the opinion of those present at the above mentioned meetings that a return of such conditions could be forever prevented if the growers' organization was returned to justly and according to law. It was the opinion of those present at said meetings that its business pation and centralization of power should be conducted, in the future.

per year and five cents per mile going and returning from directors' meeting. Ten—The office of the company should therefor; and their first duty should be to the growers, and not to speculators and themselves.

In view of the fact that the usurpers now in charge of the affairs of the company have shown no desire to conduct the business in accordance with the above ideas it would seem useless to hope that they would do so in the future if elected November 6, 1913. That they wish to be elected and intend to be elected is made very plain by their activity in securing proxies and their "booming" of themselves in newspaper articles, written at Lexington, and sent out to the newspapers each week for publication, and

"Defendants say further that the Burley Tobacco Company in handling the tobacco pooled with the Burley Tobacco Society and in the conduct and operation of its business, has earned such profits that it has enhanced already the book value, and the real value of each share of stock held by the poolers in the Burley Tobacco Company not less than fifty per cent above the amount actually invested therein by the stockholders."

As you see, Mr. Lebus swore the stock was worth a dollar and a half. Why are they taking it from the stockholders for less than it is worth? Ought they not to pay what Mr. Lebus has sworn it is really worth, instead of forty or fifty cents? really worth, instead of forty or fifty really worth, instead of forty or fitty cents?

The attention of the stockholders is respectfully called to the fact that the approaching election will be held under the supervision of the commissioners of the Kenton circuit court, and that the votes of the stockholders will be counted as cast at this election; and judging from the conduct of the usurpers in opposing and denying your right to vote in the past, you may be able to conclude what the future may hold in store for the stockholders who hereafter seek the right to vote, in the event the usurpers are successful in this election. Don't it occur to you that this is probably the best chance that the stockholders will ever have to get possession and control ever have to get possession and control of their own affairs? s question must present itself thoughtful, reflecting stockhold

This question must present itself to each thoughtful, reflecting stockholder who has the real interest of the Burley tobacco growers at heart, to-wit:

Should I cast my vote for those who disfranchised me, and who used my own money to keep me disfranchised, and who have withheld from me information concerning the business of the company and who now seek to buy the stock at one-third of what Mr. Lebus has sworn i was worth, and who do not even now promise any definite policy for the future? If you wish to endorse usurpation and wrong, you will be given a full, fair chance to do so in the election to be held at Lexington, Ky., November 6, 1912, or if you wish to vote against such conduct, you will have a like opportunity to do so. The stockholders' right to vote, in the approching election was secured to them by the efforts of a few men, but those men do not feel that their obligations to their neighbors go to the extent Two—There should be made, at once, by a competent and disinterested auditing and clerical force, a thorough stockholder as another, and it can not and will not be done unless the stockholders accomplish it by their individual finances of the company, and a printed statement showing, in detail, the result of the investigation, without prejudice or favor to any person, mailed to each stockholder.

Three—There should also be made, as soon as is possible, by competent and disinterested persons, a physical valuation of all the property of the company, with a view of ascertaining as nearly as possible, the real true of the individual stockholder, who must do for himself what he wants dore. It would be best for as many stockholders as possibly can to go to Lexington, in person, on November 6th, and cast their own votes. As many may not be able, or care to incur this expense, those who wish to do so can get blank proxies from any of the following named gentlemen to-wit:

Silverware

Aside from its intrinsic value to-day---our Silverware has the distinction of representing the perfection of the Silversmith's Art at this period of American history.

For this reason---it will be appreciated by future generations---even more so than are the heirlooms of the past valued to-day.

The practic 1 use of Silver and its permanence---makes it an appropriate and lasting gift forever appreciated.

Our Silverware display is one of the specia, features of this store--- and one of special interest to those who seek exclusive patterns at moderate prices.

held Nov. 4, and every member of the party who participated in the election is in honor bound to support the nominees. Every arrangement should be made to go to the polls early on election day, and cast your vote for the choice of the majority of the party whose election was won fairly and

All that is necesary for the success of the party is for every Democrat to put his shoulder to the wheel on the day of the election and by his vote assure the success of the Democratic candidates. The defeat of any of the candidates will be construed as a rebuke to our brilliant President, Woodrow Wilson, and the Democratic members of both branches of Congress.

The Republicans, who would be unable to win without assistance from the Democrats, are using their usual tactics to dissuade the Democrats from supporting the Democratic nominees, but it is a well-grounded opinion that they will be lacking many votes when the final count is made. There is nothing so admirable in a Democrat as to have him lay aside any personal feeling and cast his vote for the interest of the choice of the people and his party. In this day of political strife we are to combat with the common enemy and loyalty to the cause of Democracy is a most commendable trait in the party following. A glance at the list of assistants to Chairman W. G. McClintock clearly demonstrates that men have been selected to run the campaign who will be found in the thickest of the fray. Lend assistance by casting your vote for the straight Democratic ticket.

CONGRESS BEE BUZZING IN HAMLETT'S HAT.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Barksdale Hamlett returned to Frankfort, Tuesday, from a trip the Second District, and while he declined to commit himself on the subject of entering the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in that district, he said:

"I was importuned by a great many people to enter the race after the announcement of Congressman Stanley from Washington that he will ot be candidate again.'

It is said that the race for the nomination to succeed Stanley is practically made up with the exception of a candidate from Christian, and Superintendent Hamlett is expected to announce defittely his intentions soon after the November election.

Judge Henson, of Henderson, and David Kincheloe, of Madisonville, are he only avowed cadidate so far.

JAMES INDORSES HUGHES FOR COLLECTOR IN EIGHTH

Senator Ollie M. James recom nended John W. Hughes, of Harrods burg, to be Collector of Internal Revenue in the Eighth Kentucky district. An appointment to fill this office is expected some time this week. Assistant Secretary of War Breckinridge and members of the Kentucky Wilson League are demanding that the President ask Senator James to change his indorsement of Hughes and name an original Wilson man for the place. If Presidet Wilson takes such a step and the Senator consents it is likely the Senator would then recommed Kendrick Alcorn, of Stanford. at 23 cents a pound." But it is not thought that the President will take such a step.

above facts were learned from the Treasury Department sources.

In selecting Judge Hughes from the two score candidates for the place, Mr. James, according to well-informed politicians, has found a satisfactory solution of the Collectorship tangle. Throughout the contest localities have figured largely.

The Eleventh Congressional district candidate was decided against because it seemed more important to the Democratic party, from the Senator's viewpoint.

TRUSTEES APPOINTED.

To Administer the $3,000,000 Trust Fund Left By Mrs. Eddy.

The final act in the prolonged litigation over the will of the late Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy was the appointment by Judge Charles R. Corning in the Merrimack County Court of Probate at Concord, N. H., of trustees to administer the three million dollar fund which Mrs. Eddy left for the promotion and extension of the doctrines of Christian Science as taught by her.

The trustees appointed are Archibald MacLelland, Allison V. Stewart, John V. Dittemore, Adam H. Dickey and James A. Neal, who constitute the Board of Directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, in Boston, and Josiah E. Fernald, of Concord, a banker, who has been the practical custodian of Mrs. Eddy's esate since the establishment of this trust in 1907; the court thus choosing as trustees men in whom Mrs. Eddy during her lifetime reposed confi-

WASHINGTON PORTRAIT

Believed to Be the Genuine Gilbert

On the wall of a dimly-lighted front room in a dilapidated frame house on Orange Avenue, Cleveland, O., hangs a time-worn painting of George Washington, which may prove to be worth many thousands of dollars.

To the layman it looks like a once fine portrait, with its days of ornamentation nearly ended, but by the initiated in art it is believed to be a genuine Gilbert Stuart—the only one still unaccounted for. The last Gilbert Stuart discovered brought $16,000 a year ago in Philadelphia.

John F. McHale, a dealer in antiques, is the owner of the Cleveland painting. "I picked the painting up six years ago," said McHale. "In my mind there is no doubt about its genuineness. I am waiting for Director Kent, of the Metropolitan Museum in New York, who is coming here to pass judgment on it."

STARTING LIFE EASY," SAYS WRITER OF PLAYS.

Clara Lipman, who, with Samuel Shipman, has written the new comedy gubriously. "Life is an extremely serious thing and I do not mean to say that it ought to be looked upon with trifling eyes by any means," she added, the other day. "But I do think any great, potent idea ought to be presented to the public in a sympathetic manner and with as light a touch as it is possible to give such things. "You know," she went on, "it very easy to write seriously. There is no special difficulty in making people weep in the theatre. Take, for instance, this subject of the younger generation. It is the most vital subect of the moment in America. The American children have no youth whatever. The times are such that they are born with complete knowledge. They come forth into a world of science, electricity, wireless, mechanical toys and dear Heaven knows what eles besides. They do not know how to play, and as a result of all they have the most decided ideas about everything under the sun. Tell me, what is going to be the remedy for this?

"I know how it was in my own case. My wonderful mother lived long before her time. She was well weighted down with all sorts of questions that are the topics of the moment nowadays, and she had no one to pour out her thoughts to but me. She did this unconsciously, perlife was, I was extremely unhappy.

"Of course, that is a thing of the past, for I know life now, and have could see so much unhappines all charmeuse, while Mrs. Ferguson was about me in the younger generation beautiful in a becoming gown of that I could write the most serious

Promptly at the appointed time the wedding procession was announced by the strains of Lohengrin's Chorus. First came two of the groomsmen, Mr. Webb Offutt, of New York, brother of the bride, and Mr. Charlton Clay, entering from the library through the hall into the drawing room where the ceremony was said. Each of the bridesmaids came in alone, Miss Caroline Roseberry, and then Miss Cornelia Blackburn. Next came two groomsmen, Mr. Hugh Ferguson and Mr. Charles Ferguson, who were followed by Miss Martha Ferguson, of

The bridesmaids' gowns were lovely creations of delicate green charmeuse with overdress of shadow lawn, trimming of silver lace. As in "ye olden times"each maid carried bouquets of French rosebuds in holders.

Mrs. Wallace Howe, of Torrent, as dame of honor, came next, beautifully gowned in green crepe meteor combined with white chiffon embroidered in gold.

Following the dame of honor was the groom with his best man, Mr. Robert Ferguson. The bride, on the arm of her father, was beautiful in a robe of white satin, trimmed in rare rose point lace. The gown made with court train. The veil was formed in a becoming cap caught up with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a diamond and pearl lavalliere, the gift of the groom.

The bride's mother was handsome in a black lace gown over black dainty pink charmeuse with overdress
